

Probate: The Good, the Bad, and How to Avoid It

Program to be held May 18 at Newton Recreation Department

Attorney Susannah Brown, of the legal firm Anthony & Brown, will present valuable information at the Newton Recreation Center at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 18.

Probate and estate administration in North Carolina is a legal process that ensures a decedent's debts are paid and their assets are distributed according to their last will and testament or according to the intestate succession laws of North Carolina if they die without a will.

This program will address the advantages and disadvantages of probate and estate administration, beneficiary designations, joint with right of survivorship accounts, deeds, and various other tools that can be used to pass property at death.

For more information or to register, please call the Catawba County Council on Aging at 828-328-2269.

The class will be held in the lower level of the Newton Recreation Center, which is located at 23 South Brady Ave.
